EDITOR'S TABLE

Messages for new comers to the United States, is the title of two series of leaflets issued by the North American Civic League for Immigrants, 173 State St., Boston. The first series is published in English, Italian and Yiddish; the second series in English only. The titles of the Messages in one series are, The United States, its people and its laws; the need of learning English and the advantage of an education; the story of the American people; Abraham Lincoln. Librarians will find them useful in work with foreigners.

The Massachusetts library club has begun the issue of a small Bulletin. It is scheduled to appear five times a year and two numbers have already been published. The Secretary of the club, Mr. Drew B. Hall, of the Millicent library, Fairhaven, is the editor.

The tenth annual report of the Reading Camp Association, just issued from its offices in Toronto, tells interestingly of the educational work among the lumbermen, the track layers and other frontiersmen of Canada. The pamphlet is a valuable addition to the literature of rural library extension.

The editor of the Bulletin has received the first number of The Librarian, a newly established quarterly magazine, the organ of the St. Petersburg Society of Library Science. We quote from Library Journal the following translation of the contents of this number: "No. 1 contains an article by A. E. Plotnikov on the 'Peoples and public libraries in Russia;' a report of the activities of the Library Science Society for the years 1903-1907, by P. Bogdanov; A review of new publications; Bibliography; A Review of foreign literature; Chronicle of the Russian libraries; Constitution and Report of the Society of Library Science."

The first article on public libraries in Russia sounds as if it might be interesting to American readers and worth translating for some of our library periodicals.
